

International Fellowship of Motorcycling Rotarians

IFMR Spring Get-together Walnut Creek, OH – May 4-6, 2012

Spring is spectacular and the riding is great in the Amish farms, fields, and hills of north-central Ohio.

Mark your calendar, make reservations, and join us for fun, fellowship, and great riding. Scenic, historic Walnut Creek is located in north-central Ohio, in the heart of beautiful Amish country.

Our planning team has put together a great weekend! On Friday afternoon enjoy the quiet beauty of the local area, followed by a fellowship dinner in the evening; on Saturday they've mapped out a wonderful loop ride of about 200 miles, with several interesting stops along the way, plus another fellowship dinner in the evening; and on Sunday morning get together for breakfast before heading home or taking a self-guided ride around the area. There's lots of fellowship and fine food with other IFMR riders at unique local restaurants both Friday and Saturday nights.

For more information about historic and scenic attractions and other accommodations in the area, go to walnutcreekohio.com.

So we can plan for fellowship dinners on Friday and Saturday night, as well as keep you posted on further details, please let us know if you plan to attend by emailing event coordinator Rory Windrim (rlwindrim@aol.com) with your expected arrival and departure times and the name of your passenger and/or guest riders, if any, plus any questions you may have about the event.

ROOMS WILL BE SCARCE. Make reservations now at the Inn at Walnut Creek (330-893-3599) located at 4869 Olde Pump St, Walnut Creek, OH 44687. IFMR is a world-wide fellowship of Rotarians, family, and friends who enjoy and share the sport of motorcycling, travel, and community service, across boundaries and borders. Just one of the many fellowship groups created by and for Rotarians around the world.
